5.0 Public Comments

Everyone introduced themselves and their ideas on what they would like to see AA/BPAC focus on this year.

Aree Washington advised she is a grandmother of students at Madison Elementary School. She would like to see parents educated on helping their children and participating in their education by showing up more to meetings and reading with their kids. She advised parents need to understand the importance of helping children with homework, reading and paying attention to reading school event reminders being sent home.

Earlisha Gaines is a parent of three daughters at Commodore. Ms. Gaines is looking for something for us by us. She also wants to see unity.

Dana Carey has a son who attends Chavez High School. She has recently started a position at Edison High School in the Mental Health Department. (Congratulations) Wants to find out more about AA/BPAC and get more active.

Evelyn Wofford is a mother of a daughter at Chavez, she has grandchildren at Chavez and Commodore she is here to be supportive of her children and grandchildren. She wants to see change in the school system she advised of her personal experience where her daughter was getting bullied by a teacher. Wants people at the schools to help the students

Albert Cato is the parent of a child who attends Edison high school. Mr. Cato would like to see more education on true Black history. He advised kids know rap but not their history. He would also like to see the children get out of the city and visit different businesses to see what is out here for them. He would also like to see possible clothing drives and working with churches. He also advised of different meeting options such as web conferencing.

John Carey has a son at Chavez High School and two other students in a different district is here for support, he feels there are many issues that need to change and he would like to be a part of the change.

Nikkisha Robinson is the mother of a student at Cleveland, she admits she took two children out of this district due to issues within the district, she feels the district has a lot of support and we don't when it comes to our children.

Dara responded to Nikkisha Robinson advised that the new superintendent has an open door policy and to start notating her problems

Sharon Williams-Peyton Agrees that we need to have more of our history taught to our children

Aleka Murphy is the mother of two students at San Joaquin and wants more parents educated, suggests we go back to old school teaching of grandmothers. We need a different mindset.

Shane Bailey is the guardian of an 8 year old who attends Montezuma, she has works with SUSD for the past three years. She would like to see more of our children participating and being aware of the Spanish programs.
