THE CORNERSTONES OF REDESIGNING SCHOOL SAFETY

“The cornerstones will consist of four main components that combined will allow us to bring to life a different outlook and approach to public safety and mentoring our youth here at Stockton Unified. It is our mission here at the SUSD Department of Public Safety to advocate for equality and inclusivity by embracing a guardian mentality to reduce disproportionality and promote a positive educational environment; to create and maintain a vital, healthy, safe and just community and to improve the quality of life for all. We are proposing to change our name from SUSD Police Department to SUSD Department of Public Safety to better fit our vision in the direction we would like to move in.” The four cornerstones are 1. Restorative Justice- working on improving students’ behavior, dealing with students’ discipline needs, by avoiding quick arrests and understanding students’ situations at home. Understanding students are growing up and dealing with life situations. 2. Youth Engagement- offers interaction programs to motivate, encourage and help students navigate thru life by becoming mentors and leaders. 3. Community Involvement- have outside resources for those students that needed extra intervention and support for the families and 4. Holistic Approach- working with the communities, schools, students to come up with projects. Having meetings with all stakeholders to discuss concerns and work with them to find a solution. Parents were given time to ask questions. The SUSD Police Department will continue to host meetings to inform, ask questions of all stakeholders and continue to work in partnership.

Sharon Barnes shared with members and guest that SUSD Counseling and Mental Health Department are available for all students through the district. They are working every day and visiting the students virtual while in class at all school sites to help students understand the pandemic and how to reach out for help if they need help.
