Dear Troop,

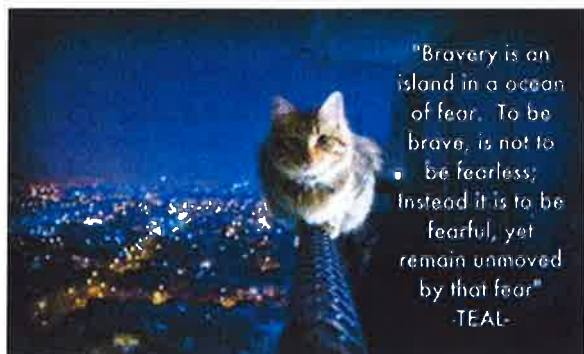

I am from Harrison Elementary and my name is Benson. I am aware of you being injured or homesick, I feel sorry for you so I am going to try and give you some motivation. I know you're away from your family and friends but you have to keep on going and defending our country and fighting to feel better. I am sure everyone will be proud of what you've done. I want you to remember people will be cheering you on no matter what. I know it will be scary but you will be known and honored.

I respect that you have the guts to join the world's strongest armed forces on earth. You will be defending people who can't defend themselves. You will help countries who can't defend themselves. You have gone beyond and above and you have battled for the strongest army in the universe, just saying.

Think positive and confident and when you are ready get back up. You are awesome for doing something really scary. It is awesome how you are risking your life for defending our country. You are really awesome I know I said that a lot of times but you need to know that you really are. Thank you for everything that you have done if you're feeling down I hope you start feeling better take one day at a time. Please try to write back to Stockton, California Harrison Elementary. Make sure to get some rest before you go back out there. I will be ending it here so have a wonderful day.

Sincerely,

Benson

Dear trooper I'm writing to,

I'm grateful that you fight for us, and I hope you get OK soon. If I were as brave as you I would totally wanna grow up as you. I look up to all of you. I hope you get OK, and I will just love you coming home so I could admire you some more.

I look up to you, because I wanna be as brave as you. It's like your one of the characters from my favorite graphic novels, brave and courageous. I like people like that.

To me all of you are brave and strong. I hope I grow up like that. I will always sing the anthem for you, because I'm grateful for people like you. I hope your OK soon, because singing the anthem for you will be my pleasure.
